Dear Mr. Satyapal Dang

Author Reader Meet in World Book Fair

You may be aware that 16th New Delhi World Book Fair is being held at Pragati Maidan on 14 to 22 February 2004 from 11 am to 8 PM. As usual, you publisher is participating in a big way. Two stalls bearing nos. 323 and 324 in Hall No.11 have been allotted to us. Your title will be showcased profusely.

Publisher is eager to capitalize on the stature and personality of his author. Book-Lovers looks forward to author's countenance for consummating the genesis of his acumen. We will be happy if you could spare a couple of hours out of your busy schedule to grace the occasion. You may like to let us have the definite date and time of your audience in order to give advance publicity through invitation letters to book lovers.

The program of our authors will be published in daily bulletin of NBT Newsletter during the fair. Your presence will be announced over the PA system of the fair venue. Efforts are on to motivate media to carry the interaction of visitors with authors in their issues.

With best regards,

Yours Sincerely

Amit Garg

Well known fighter for justice and Social Worker, octogenarian Satya Pal Dang, a veteran Communist leader was in the front ranks of the anti militancy fight in Punjab for over a decade. His ⁶⁶ Terrorism in Punjab ⁹⁹ (Gyan 2000) is anthology of a jungle raj. It deals with all aspects of Khalistani terrorism- theoretical as well as practical. Demise of terrorism was followed by corruption, communalism, scams and scandals, rigged elections, wastage of funds on populism and new facets of Kashmir tangle, et al. Dang used national and regional media to highlight and analyse all such phenomenon exposing the ugly faces of the culprits.

Old age infirmity has not prevented him from continuing his work. His wife Vinla Dang has been a source of much inspiration and support for him. The renowned pen pusher has now published his second work. Past, present and future of State, religion and politics are woven in ten thematic chapters over 300 pages. Written in simple yet idiomatic English, the book is repository of factual and documented goings on in the largest democracy of the World. Hopefully, posterity will learn memorable lessons from an erudite statesman ~~man~~ who would not sacrifice his principles and convictions for any short-term advantage, for any reason for that matter.

Well known fighter for justice and social work,

Iron hand in velvet glove octogenarian Satyapal Dang, a veteran Communist leader, spearheaded anti militancy fight in Punjab for over a decade. His Terrorism in Punjab (Gyan 2000) is anthology of a jungle raj. It deals with all aspects of Khalistani terrorism - theoretical as well as practical Demise of terrorism was followed by corruption, communalism, scams and scandals, rigged elections, wastage of funds on populism and new facet of Kashmir tangle, et al. Dang used national and regional media to highlight every aberration with the name of defaulter and analyse all such phenomena exposing the ugly faces of the culprits.

Old age infirmity and ~~no support from Septuagenarian Bimla Dang to his work~~ has not prevented him from continuing his work. His wife Vimla Dang has been a source of much inspiration & support
