V Satyanandrao

A short biographical note on V Styananda, General Secretary, Shipyard Workers' Union (AITUC), interviewed on September 12, 2004 at Vishakhapatanam

V Satyanand was born on June 6, 1953. His father was a worker in Vizag port. After matriculation, Satyanand passed ITI and joined shipyard as technician in 1975. He joined trade union immidiately after taking up his job. While studying, Satyananda was active in the Students' Federation of India (SFI), a student wing of the CPIM, and was politicalised in his own way before even joining the shipyard. At his workplace, natural choice for him was to join the CITU.

Satyanand was in CITU for some time but later felt suffocated as he could not communicate with the leaders. Many of his senior comrades felt the same way. When the differences became acute, all the rebel members were thrown out from the party as well as the trade union. Soon, Satyanand too left that organisation and finally joined AITUC.

Satyanand today leads the workers in the shipyard as general secretary of the union. Several struggles have been launched in his leadership.

V Satyanandrao

A short transcriptive note on V Styananda, General Secretary, Shipyard Workers' Union (AITUC), interviewed on September 12, 2004 at Vishakhapatanam

I was born on June 6, 1953. My father was a worker in Vizag port. After matriculation, I passed ITI and joined shipyard as technician in 1975. I joined trade union immidiately after taking up my job. While studying, Satyananda was active in the Students' Federation of India (SFI), a student wing of the CPIM, and was politicalised in my own way before even joining the shipyard. At my workplace, natural choice for me was to join the CITU.

I was in CITU for some time but later felt suffocated as I could not communicate with the leaders. Many of my senior comrades felt the same way. When the differences became acute, all the rebel members were thrown out from the party as well as the trade union. Soon, I too left that organisation and finally joined AITUC.

I lead today the workers in the shipyard as general secretary of the union. Several struggles have been launched in my leadership.