My dear brother

I received your letter written on 1-10-07 or 6-10-07.

Thanks a lot. I hope I have told you on phone that

Babli + Anjan had left for motor rally about one week ago

they had already attended two rallies + got third prize.

This time rally was to start from Simla to Srinagar but unfortunately they were not able to join it because due to bad road their car got stuck so they had to stand on the come back to Chamigash. But after two days the entire rally was cancelled

due to heavy rains this time there were 141 cars including 3 foreigners two from London & one from U.S.A, but I am not certain because of my memory problem.

Babli + Rajan were expected to-day from Ludhiana but Goodie did not allow them so they will come tomorrow. Rest everything is O.K. Give my regards to Bhabiji. With love, Pushpa

some Sir, I want to know
Only ~~one~~ political questions

(i) ~~was~~ there any china hand in building the Khalistan in India?

(ii) What is your approach to
Indo-US.A nuclear pact

(iii) What is the scope of bringing Communism in our Country (which is very much populus, which is having a no. of religions.

(iv) How communist may be far away from religion by adopting their own ways of celebrating their various functions homely

Dear Satyapal,

Thanks. Your letter dated 25 Feb was forwarded to me only today. Pardon the delay in responding.

You will agree that the ground for re-igniting Hindu communal war prepared by men like Savarkar and leaders of the B.S.P. The B.S.P. (under Jan Sangh) remained a minor force even under Vajpayee till L.K. Advani's infamous Math Yatra and the destruction of the Babri Masjid since then it is as active as the B.S.P. Shree Ram, Wajrang and others have become a formidable force of reaction & fundamentalism. We can debate this for days.

I trust you are in good shape I remember you warmly since the day you crowned Manoj at the p.M.S. have to you both

Dear chacha ji,

Hope this will find you in good health. Though the election dates are not announced here the climate is hotting up day by day.

Mulayam and Mayawati are the front runners. BJP and Congress are way behind.

Rahul is trying hard but their sway is very limited in eastern U.P. West U.P. is in deliman. Ajit is also being ground in west U.P. because of various scandals.

How is Punjab trying?

Navjot will romp in or not? Man Mohan Singh ji is also trying hard this time.

Congress loss badly in B.M.C. polls. Now their hopes lie in Punjab and Uttarakhand.

Rest every body is fine. Madhu has written

FELICITATION FUNCTION ON THE OCCASION OF 75TH BIRTHDAY OF
DR. DEVESH THAKUR

Organized by : SAMEECHEEN, MUMBAI.

UTTARANCHAL MITRA MANDAL, MIRA ROAD.
DAKSHIN BHARAT HINDI PARISHAD, KOLHAPUR.
HINDI SAHITYA MANDAL,
RAMNARAIN RUIA COLLEGE, MUMBAI.

Dear Sir / Madam,

We are planning to celebrate the 75th birthday of Devesh Thakur, eminent critic and progressive writer in the Hindi literary world. Till date, he has authored more than 55 books which include literary criticism, novels, short stories, poems and research articles. Also, 13 research Scholars have been awarded Ph.Ds and an equal number of students have worked for their M. Phil. dissertation on his life and works.

Further, 7 independent books have been written on his life, literature and views. His collected works (7 volumes) were published in 1992. There has been little parallel both, to the voluminous work done by him as also, the study of his works by others in this part of the country. Some of his novels have been prescribed as text books in graduate, post-graduate and M.Phil. courses.

He has taught Hindi Literature in Colleges affiliated to University of Mumbai for 38 years before retiring as a Head of Hindi department of Ramnarain Ruia College, Matunga, Mumbai in 1993. Further he had been a recognised research guide in Hindi literature in University of Mumbai since 1972. Fourteen students obtained their doctoral degree (Ph.D.) under his guidance.

Devesh Thakur's writings are not bound by any traditional literary group or 'ism'. His works focus on the problems of the common man and human values.

To commemorate his 75th birthday, we are organizing a felicitation function on 23rd September 2007. We sincerely solicit your co-operation by way of donations to make this function successful.

Respected Jang Sahib.

As I was out of station

I am late in thanking you for your letter of 13th January.

I am afraid despite all my regards for you: I am not inclined to agree to your views about K. Nayan, R. Sarker, P. Bidwai et al who work against Keri's movement for petty selfish ends.

No body in India has suffered even half as much as Yashwantrao Sawarkar has suffered for the country. I will explain to you the "apology" later. Right now suffice it to say that S. A. Dange and Asaf Ali were the persons who had betrayed their own parties.

Re:
Research in Nurses

My dear Manaji & Maniji,

Hope you both are enjoying good health. I am extremely sorry for the delay in acknowledging your New Year Greetings.

Everyone here wishes you both good health and peace in the years to come.

We are all occupied with our daily routines - Ever since he returned from his stint with NDPL, Delhi, Prasad finds his office routine very monotonous - with hardly any scope for future progress. I have been keeping quite busy with fieldwork interviews for my research. I hope to complete the fieldwork by March 2007. Private nursing home owners have not been too keen to let me talk to their staff, being worried about what they may reveal. In all, the ~~experience~~ interactions with nurses have provided new insights into their working lives, though the overall picture is very depressing. There has been no legislation worth the name for employment in pvt nursing homes since 1949 & even their empty status is a big question mark - with no appointment or confirmation letters given to them.

Anshul's final exams are due by mid-March and I will now have to devote time for him.

Baba is busy completing his autobiography, while Anma & Pushpa Mausi have each other's company, recalling fond memories of the past.

Our regards to both of you,
Yours affectionately, Aarti

Respected Comrade,

I am actually a psychiatric patient. My memory is very weak which can not recollect facts and figures but only general trends and things. I cannot move alone to a distant place as I do forget the path while returning home. Actually I got ill in 1992 or even before due to my personal reasons.

(I fell in love with a junior student and I do not want to complete my degree course in 1992. ~~but~~ In this way I could not get good marks in my degree ~~course~~ course and actually I want to get my degree delayed by one year as per the rules and regulations of the university.

• But my fellow students & teachers do not like this way. So I do complete my degree in due time as per the advice of my fellow students & teachers & leave the institute in due time) But even then placement services of the university did not help me to appoint me anywhere according to my capability. Being not getting first division I could not get placement in reputed private companies at that time (in the field of construction).

They even did not attach me with any contractor at that time. तैरे कुर्वे से

Delhi, 14 July 07

My dear Satpal Bhai,

1. Your letter of 9 July was received here on 12th. It is good news that a Punjabi publisher in Jullundur wants to publish Vimla's book in an edition of 15,000 copies. I hope the translation will be done very carefully and the book will be published as it is in English without any additions or deletions. Translation and proof-reading are professional work. The translation you had earlier sent me of a long interview by Vimla was full of mistakes. Many of your writings have been spoilt by the publisher not being professional or of good standard. Please don't misunderstand me - I have done editing since 1944 and many translations and taught in the JNU the theory and practice of translation.

2. The letter from Prof. Puri is very good indeed. If he could write a brief review on similar lines, we could see if Mainstream will publish it. Being the editor and the writer of the Foreword and Afterword, I cannot review the book myself. (Even a scholar of Prof. Puri's stature writes for Virendra Nath Chattopadhyaya "Varinder Chattopadhyaya". This is all right in a personal letter, but it shows the importance of good editing.) I have also received many good reactions from several people - either verbally, on phone or by email.

3. When you are in Delhi, you could ask Anand Gupta for additional copies of the book, instead of going to PAH, which may not have a large enough stock. Anand Gupta has suggested this. We spent 2 days and 2 nights with Chunno. She has recovered largely from the shock. She is also suffering from a bad memory like us all.

You say you have shifted to Sandeep's house. I understand this is temporary, until your unit in the other house is ready. Or is it more permanent?

Kamal and I are carrying on. Both of us need medical investigations, but this is possible only in Chennai and we cannot leave Delhi for the present.

Sumit telephoned and said you were upset he has not published some article of yours. He is working under great stress and has practically no staff. Even the typing he does himself. Sometimes articles are kept over for a later issue.

With love to both of you from Kamal and me, Ravi.

Respected Comrade Darg,

I was not in Delhi for few days and after return, both of your letters were received, I always value your views with great respect and that is why anything essential I wish to share with you. I have also somewhat become used to email and can not share with you all the things, which I share with like minded friends on email. I had in fact sent these articles to 'The Tribune', 'Dawn', 'Hindu', etc. papers, none of them have published it, partly because of their length. 'Masthead' is also on my regular mailing list. Your observation that 'in 1955, SR had better relations' is correct, as I have quoted Ullapur distt. people that prior to 1965 war, lots of people from our country used to visit Shajrat Singh's, but place - check no. 105, Incidentally separately Com. A.B. Burdhan and myself have researched Govt. of India to approach Govt. of Pakistan for protecting sites relating to Shajrat Singh. Prime Minister had responded to Com. Burdhan. Your story about your friend is so commonly prevalent in Lahore that 98 year old F.E. Chaudhary is still longing to locate his friends in Delhi. Your observations about situation being not as bright as projected by me also may be objectively true, but my purpose has been to hit at prejudices and media created stereotype images of Pakistani society.

I have a wish to visit Pakistan again. Given a chance I would like to locate all the Received your book "A collection of Quotations."

Thanks.

We all are fine here and hope same for you. Ankur will be reaching U.K. in a day or so. If possible he will meet Nanna or try to contact him on phone. Today he rang up from Spain. He is all right. Astha is coming to Meerut on 2nd or 3rd Oct for a 'fortnight'. usual Autumn break.

Rita & Ramesh ji are in Bombay these days for routine check-up. They will be back by 1st of Nov. 2007.

chachi ji must have received Madhu's letter by now.

From Sonolip I came to know that 'Punjab' is celebrating Shaheed Bhagat Singh's 100th birthday in a big way. Incidentally Madhu's birthday is also on 28th Sept.

Rest every thing is fine.
Please convey my regards to chachi ji.

with deep regard, I beg to state that I adore your personality. Few days back, I learnt that you take care of your adores and never demoralize them. So, I took the courage to write to you.

You are an inspiration to all of us and no doubt that life has uneasy habit of going on but it always stops with your thoughts. Lastly I can only say that you are Unforgettable.

I would like to make a request now and that is for your autographed picture and I positively hope that you would not demoralize me like your other adores whom you have blamed before with kind heart
